

7303

Product description

ProtecRite® 7303 is a 3 mil special clear Low Density Polyethylene film developed for general surface protection during light fabrication or shipping. The acrylic adhesive offers a "lower adhesion" product with minimal adhesion build.

Performance features

- Removable: clean and stain-free removal, even after application for extended time periods
- Conformable: product remains intact, even during extreme bending
- Easy Application: the controlled unwind allows application using either manual or automatic methods
- Printable: can be supplied imprinted with your logo, signature, application instructions etc.

Applications

7303 can be used for protection on bright annealed stainless steel, highly polished stainless steel, smooth formica, anodized stainless steel, vinyl coated metals, painted metals, medium textured HP laminates and clear sealed aluminium.
